

Information: Data that has been judged to be true or false through comparison with observed reality at a given point in time.
 How to know if information is coincided with desired reality at a given point in time?

Data + elements of the environment

